Unique Aspects of Russia's Engagement with UNCSW and Gender Equality

- Constitutional Provisions: Russia's Constitution firmly establishes the principle of equality between men and women, requiring the state to guarantee equal rights and freedoms for every citizen.
- Institutional Mechanisms: The Ministry of Labour and Social Protection, together with the Commissioner for Human Rights, plays a vital role in advancing gender equality in Russia.
- Gender Mainstreaming Approach: Russia is making a strong push to weave gender perspectives into every step of policy-making and implementation across different sectors.
- Representation of Women in Politics: As of February 2024, just 16.4% of the seats in the Russian parliament were occupied by women. This highlights the ongoing struggle to achieve better gender balance in political representation.

- Active Participation in UNCSW: Russia is a regular participant in UNCSW sessions, where it submits national reviews, makes statements, and takes part in side events to exchange best practices and learn from other countries.
 - Commitment to International Frameworks: Russia is working to align its national policies with its international commitments, including important agreements like the Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination Against Women (CEDAW) and the Beijing Platform for Action.
