Unique Aspects of UAE's Engagement with UNCSW:

- Gender Parity in Parliament: The UAE has reached a remarkable milestone by achieving gender parity in its Federal National Council, with women now occupying half of the seats.
- Leadership in Women's Climate Action: The UAE introduced the "Women's Climate Fund" at COP28, aiming to empower women's organizations in their climate action initiatives.
- Support for Women's Education and STEM: Women make up 56% of STEM graduates from government universities in the UAE, showcasing the nation's dedication to promoting women's education in the fields of science and technology.
- Advancement of Women's Political Participation: The UAE made history by appointing Dr. Amal Al Qubaisi as the first woman in the Arab world to head a national assembly, taking on the role of President of the Federal National Council.
- Promotion of Women's Economic Empowerment: Emirati women currently own 10% of private sector businesses and hold 15% of board positions in chambers of commerce and industry across the country.
