Unique Aspects: India & the UNHRC

1. Largest Democracy Under Scrutiny: India's vastness and its democratic framework truly set it apart as a fascinating topic for global engagement at the UNHRC.
 2. Complex Regional Rights Crises: The situations in Kashmir and Manipur involve various Human Rights Council mechanisms, which sets them apart from many other similar regions.
 3. Corporate Accountability via UNGPs: India's collaboration between the NAP and ILO showcases its commitment to the UN's business and human rights agenda.
 4. Civil Society Suppression: NGOs and activists frequently face restrictions that are often highlighted in UPR and HRC discussions, placing the civil-political agenda at the forefront.
 5. Child Rights Prioritization: Programs like the UNICEF-driven child reporters are shining examples of how proactive youth rights can align with the goals set by the UN.
 6. Gender Justice Reforms: Legal changes regarding sexual violence show a commitment to aligning with the progressive gender agenda of the Human Rights Council.
 7. Death Penalty Retention: Using capital punishment consistently leads to conflicts with the human rights standards set by the UN.
 8. Refugee & Asylum Gaps: Statelessness, the Rohingya situation, and migrant policies are hot topics of debate in UNHRC forums.
 9. NDUs Engagement via HRC Sessions: India is quite engaged in discussions and tends to brush off outside criticism, demonstrating a strong sense of diplomatic confidence.
 10. Intersectional Climate Vulnerability: Child displacement caused by environmental crises is closely linked to children's rights within the frameworks of the UN Human Rights Council and the Sustainable Development Goals.
